- 11. Write a précis of the following passage and give a suitable title to it : 8+2=10

Man is the architect of his own fate. If he makes a proper division of his time and does his duties accordingly, he is sure to improve and prosper in life; but if he does otherwise, he is sure to repent when it is too late, and he will have to drag a miserable existence from day to day. To kill time is culpable as to commit suicide, for our life is nothing but the sum-total of hours, days and years. Youth is the seedtime of life. In youth, the mind is pliable and soft and can be moulded in any form we like. If we lose the morning hours of life, we shall have to repent afterwards.

- 12. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow :

Einstein was very simple in his ways of life and indifferent to his astounding fame. Once the Queen of Belgium invited him to Brussels. When he got down from the train at Brussels, he could not think that there were actually many gorgeously dressed officials to receive him at the station. The officials also expected to see somebody who would appear to be rich and aristocratic to them. They never imagined that this shabby man would be Einstein himself. So they went back to the queen and informed her that he had not come by the train. Einstein, however, walked the whole way with a suitcase in one hand and a violin in the other. When he reached the destination the queen said to him, "I sent a car for you, Dr. Einstein". "I did not think", replied the great scientist with a smile, "that anybody would send a car for me. But I can assure you, I have greatly enjoyed the walk."

- (a) What was unexpected to Einstein at the Brussels Railway Station? 2
- (b) What did the officials expect to see at the railway station? 2
- (c) How was Einstein dressed as he came down from the train? What did he carry in his hands? 2
- (d) Describe in two sentences Einstein's attitude towards life and fame. 2
- (e) What did the officers report to the queen? 2
